

SUMMARY: The document below is the Prerogative Court of Canterbury copy of the will, dated 11 August 1499 and proved 16 July 1500, of John Newport of Rushden, Hertfordshire.

FAMILY BACKGROUND

For the Essex and Hertfordshire branch of the Newport family, see the Newport pedigree in Metcalfe, Walter C., ed., The Visitations of Essex, (London: Harleian Society, 1878), Vol. XIII, p. 460 at:

The testator appears to be the earliest known member of the Newport family in Rushden.

MARRIAGE

The testator was survived by his wife, Joan, but appears to have had no issue. In the will below he entails his lands successively on (his nephews?) Thomas, John and George Newport, the sons of Robert Newport of Sandon.

LM: Test{amentu}m Ioh{ann}is Newpottt

In the name of God, Amen. The eleventh day of the month of August in the year of the Lord the thousand 499th, I, John Newport of Rushden in the diocese of Lincoln, of good and perfect memory, God be praised, make my testament & my last will in this manner:

First I commend my soul to Almighty God & to the glorious Blessed Mary the Virgin and all his saints, and my body to be buried in the churchyard of the parish church of Rushden;

Item, I bequeath to the high altar of the same parish church for tithes forgotten 12d;

Item, I bequeath to an honest priest to celebrate a trental of Masses where my executors shall appoint to be done for my soul 10s;

Item, I bequeath to the maintenance of the torches(?) to the said church belonging 6s 8d;

Item, I bequeath to the reparation of the bells of the same church 6s 8d;

Item, item [sic] I bequeath to the reparation of the great bell belonging to the church of Sandon one quarter of malt;

Item, I bequeath to the use of the church of Rokking [=Throcking?] 20s;

Item, I bequeath to the use of the church of Wallington a half quarter of malt;

Item, I bequeath to the church of Clothall a half quarter of malt;

Item, I bequeath to the reparations of the King's highway leading from the church green towards the vicarage of Rushden 6 quarters of malt;

Item, I bequeath to every of my godsons and god-daughters one sheep;

Item, I bequeath to Joan, my wife, all my grain, viz., wheat, barley, peas, beans & pasturage(?) now growing upon the lands freely forever;

Item, I bequeath to William Brown, my servant, one cow and 4 sheep;

Item, I will that Joan, my wife, have and hold to herself & her assigns my messuage situated in the town of Rushden with all lands & tenements, meadows, pastures, rents & services with other commodities & their appurtenances lying [ ] in the town and fields of Rushden for term of her life according to the tenor of the same deed of feoffment thereof made to the same Joan;

And after her decease I will that the foresaid messuage with all lands & tenements, meadows, pastures, rents & services & other the premises as is abovesaid remain to Thomas Newport, son of Robert Newport of Sandon, to hold the foresaid messuage with other the premises as is abovesaid and their appurtenances to the forenamed Thomas Newport and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten on condition that he, the foresaid Thomas Newport, pay to every of the sons and daughters of the said Robert Newport, viz., John Newport, George, Margaret & Agnes, 20s;

And if it should happen the forenamed Thomas Newport to die without heirs of his body lawfully begotten, then I will that the foresaid messuage with other the premises and their appurtenances as is abovesaid remain to John Newport aforenamed, to hold the foresaid messuage with other the premises and their appurtenances as is abovesaid to the forenamed John Newport & the heirs of his body lawfully begotten forever, on condition that the foresaid John Newport pay to the forenamed George, Margaret and Agnes, viz., to every of them 20s;

If they be not paid, and for default of heirs of his body lawfully begotten, the remainder thereof to the forenamed George Newport & the heirs of his body lawfully begotten forever, paying to the same Margaret & Agnes, his sisters, viz., to each of them 20s;

If they be not paid, and if it happen the forenamed George to be a priest, then I will that the foresaid George not have the foresaid messuage with the lands and tenements and other the premises as is aforesaid, but they wholly to be sold [s. and pl.] and the moneys thereof arising to be disposed by my executors or by their assigns in this manner following, viz.:

I will that 20s thereof be given towards the reparation of the bells of the said church of Rushden and the torches(?) of the same;

Item, I bequeath to some priest of the said moneys thereof arising to celebrate divine services in the church of Rushden for the space of one half year for my soul and the souls of my ancestors & friends;

The residue thereof I will to be disposed among the poor & in other pious & charitable works for the good of the souls aforesigned, to be done according to the discretion of my executors;

And moreover I will that if the foresaid Joan, my wife, have indigence or necessity(?) to levy(?) some parcel of the foresaid lands, I will that she sell the same parcel thereof as pleaseth her at her pleasure to be done;

Item, I bequeath to the church of Cadecoth [=Cottered?] one(?) quarter of malt;

The true residue of all my goods and chattels not bequeathed, except my debts which are owed to me, I give & bequeath to the forenamed Joan, my wife, freely forever;

Which debts I place in the disposition of my executors that they dispose the foresaid debts wholly in charitable works & in pious uses & also to pay my debts which I owe for the weal of the souls above-named;

Which my executors of my present testament & my last will I constitute the foresaid Joan, my wife, & Robert Newport of Sandon on [+their?] faithful promises to execute;

These being witnesses: William Bayster(?), clerk, and vicar of Rushden.

[=The above-written testament was proved at Lambeth on the sixteenth day of the month of July in the year of the Lord the thousand five hundredth.]
