On Sir Oliver Calthorpe's death, the manor [Brome Hall] passed to his son and heir, Sir William Calthorpe, who married Eleanor, daughter of Sir John Mantly, and died in 1420, when the manor descended to his son and heir, Sir John Calthorpe, who married Amy, daughter and heir of Sir John Wythe, and on his death the manor passed to his son and heir, Sir William Calthorpe, who, dying in 1494, left by Elizabeth, his first wife, daughter of Reginald, Lord Grey of Ruthyn, a son, Sir John Calthorpe, who married Elizabeth, daughter of Roger Wentworth, of Nettlestead, and died in his father's lifetime, and on Sir William's death the manor passed to his grandson and heir, the son of Sir John, Sir Philip Calthorpe, who married 1st Mary, sister and heir of Sir William Say, and 2^{ndly} Jane, daughter of John Blenerhasset, and dying in 1535 the manor passed to his son and heir by his first wife, Sir Philip Calthorpe. He married Jane (? Amata or Amy), daughter of Sir William Boleyn, of Blickley, in Norfolk, and aunt of Queen Anne Boleyn, and died 7th April 1549, leaving an only daughter and heir, Elizabeth, married to Sir Henry Parker, K.B., son and heir of Lord Morley, who sold the manor in 1550 to Robert Hyde, from whom it passed to Sir Thomas Cornwallis, eldest son of Sir John Cornwallis.

For the will of Sir Thomas Cornwallis (1518/19 – 24 December 1604), whose eldest son and heir purchased Oxford's lease of the mansion of Fisher's Folly, see TNA PROB 11/105/106.

For Amata Boleyn, see the will of her sister, Alice Boleyn Clere (c.1487 - 1 November 1538), TNA PROB 11/27/398.

The testator was the son of Sir John Calthorpe of Burnham Thorpe by Anne Wythe, daughter of Sir John Wythe. According to the pedigree in Lee-Warner, supra, the testator had three sisters:

-Margaret Calthorpe, married to Walter Aslack.

-Aimee or Anne Calthorpe married to Sir Thomas Brewes. Blomefield, however, states that Mary Calthorpe was the first wife of Sir Thomas Brewes. See:

Francis Blomefield, 'Loddon Hundred: Topcroft', in An Essay Towards A Topographical History of the County of Norfolk: Volume 10 (London, 1809), pp. 185-189. British History Online <http://www.british-history.ac.uk/topographical-hist-norfolk/vol10/pp185-189> [accessed 31 December 2017].

-(blank) Calthorpe, married successively to husbands surnamed Colville, Brandon and Bertie. According to some sources, her Christian name was Ada.

MARRIAGES AND CHILDREN

In the will below the testator mentions three sons of his second marriage, Francis Calthorpe, William Calthorpe and Edward Calthorpe, and three daughters, married to William Gurney, Robert Drury and Francis Hasilden, respectively. The testator died at the age of 84, and several of his children had predeceased him.

First marriage

The testator married firstly Elizabeth Grey (d.1437), the daughter of Sir Reynold Grey (c.1362 – 18 October 1440), 3rd Baron Grey of Ruthin, by his third wife, Joan Astley (d. 3 September or 12 November 1448). See Richardson, Douglas, Plantagenet Ancestry, 2nd ed., 2011, Vol. I, p. 169 and Vol. III, pp. 102-4 (hereafter PA).

According to the Calthorpe pedigree in Lee-Warner, supra, the testator had two sons and two daughters by Elizabeth Grey:

* John Calthorpe, esquire eldest son and heir apparent, who married Elizabeth Wentworth, daughter of Roger Wentworth (d. 21 October 1452), esquire, by Margery Despenser (d. 20 April 1478), daughter and heiress of Sir Philip le Despenser (d. 20 June 1424). See the will of Sir Henry Wentworth (c.1448 - August 1499) of Nettlestead, TNA PROB 11/12/265, and Richardson, Douglas, Magna Carta Ancestry, 2nd ed., 2011, Vol. III, pp. 234-5 (hereafter MCA).

John Calthorpe is mentioned in a charter of 1469 (see Lee-Warner, supra, p. 9), but died during the lifetime of his father.

By Elizabeth Wentworth, John Calthorpe had a son and three daughters:

-Sir Philip Calthorpe (c.1464-1535), who in 1494 was heir to his grandfather, the testator. For his will, see NRO Platfoote 197. He married firstly Mary Say (1464-1501), daughter of Sir John Say (d.1478), and secondly, Jane Blennerhassett (d.1549), daughter of Sir John Blennerhassett of Frenze. For Jane Blennerhassett, see the Blennerhassett pedigree available as a pdf file online, and Manning, C.R., 'Church Plate in the Deanery of Norwich', Norfolk Archaeology, Vol. X, (Norwich: A.H. Goose and Co., 1888), pp. 65-116 at pp. 93-4:

<https://archive.org/stream/norfolkarchaeol15socigoog#page/n146/mode/2up>

By Mary Say, Sir Philip Calthorpe (c.1464-1535) was the father of a son, Sir Philip Calthorpe (1480 - 7 April 1549), and three daughters, including Elizabeth Calthorpe (d. before 1518), who married firstly Sir Robert Southwell (d. 31 March 1514), and secondly Thomas Brooke (d.1529), 8th Baron Cobham. See TNA C 1/452/8 dated 1515-18 ('executors of Robert Southwell, knight' versus 'Thomas Broke, lord Cobham, late the husband of Elizabeth, formerly the wife of the said Robert'); the will of Sir Robert Southwell, TNA PROB 11/18/38; the will of George Brooke (c.1497 – 29 September 1558), 9th Baron Cobham, TNA PROB 11/43/628; and Eller, George, Memorials, Elizabeth Calthorpe was the daughter of Sir Philip Calthorpe of Burnham Thorpe, Norfolk (c.1464-1535) and his first wife, Mary Saye (1464-1501). Her first husband was Sir Robert Southwell (d. March 31, 1514). She was his second wife. They were married c.1511 and had no children. In 1515, she became the second of three wives of Thomas Brooke, 8th baron Cobham (d. July 19, 1529). Her name is sometimes mistakenly given as Dorothy Southwell. A lawsuit in 1516 in the court of Common Pleas, identifies Lady Cobham as the widow of Sir Robert Southwell. She and her husband were at that time acting as co-executors of the Southwell estate. Elizabeth had no children from her second marriage and died before 1518.

-Anne Calthorpe, who married firstly John Cressner, and secondly Sir Edward Knyvet (d.1528), eldest son of Sir William Knyvet (d.1515) by his second marriage to Joan Stafford, daughter of Humphrey Stafford, 1st Duke of Buckingham, by Anne Neville (1414–1480), daughter of Ralph Neville, 1st Earl of Westmorland. See the Wikipedia article on Sir Edmund Knyvet (c.1508 – 1 May 1551) edited by the author of this website at:

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Edmund_Knyvet

-Agnes Calthorpe, who married firstly William Curson, and secondly John Crane. By John Crane, Agnes Calthorpe was the grandmother of Anthony Crane, husband of 'Mistress Crane' in whose manor of East Molesey the first of the Marprelate tracts was printed on a secret press in October 1588. https://books.google.ca/books?id=p_8HAAAAQAAJ&pg=PA26

-Margaret Calthorpe, Abbess of Bruisyard in 1497.

* William Calthorpe, second son, who died without issue.

* Amy Calthorpe, who married William Gurney. For his will, dated 2 March 1507 and proved 20 May 1508, see TNA PROB 11/15/744, and Gurney, Daniel, The Record of the House of Gournay, (London: John Bowyer Nichols and John Gough Nichols, 1848), p. 403 at:

<https://books.google.ca/books?id=dlUBAAAAQAAJ&pg=PA403>

* Elizabeth Calthorpe, who married Richard Welby of Moulton, Lincolnshire. Their marriage is mentioned in a charter in 1469. See Lee-Warner, supra, p. 9. Neither she nor her husband are mentioned in the testator's will below. For Richard Welby, see:

Second marriage

The testator married secondly Elizabeth Stapleton (d. 18 February 1505), elder daughter and co-heiress of Sir Miles Stapleton (d. 1 October 1466) by his second wife, Katherine de la Pole (1416 – 13 or 14 October 1488), daughter of Sir Thomas de la Pole by his second wife, Anne Cheyne, daughter of Nicholas Cheyne. Elizabeth Stapleton's sister, Joan Stapleton, married firstly Sir Christopher Harcourt, and secondly Sir John Huddleston (d. 1 January 1512). See PA, supra, Vol. I, pp. 168-9, 514, and Vol. III, p. 510; the will of Sir Robert Throckmorton, TNA PROB 11/20/25, and the Huddleston pedigree in Baddeley, Welbore St. Clair, A Cotteswold Shrine, Being a Contribution to the History of Hailes, County Gloucester, (London: Kegan Paul, 1908), p. 109 at

According to the Calthorpe pedigree in Lee-Warner, supra, the testator had three sons and three daughters by Elizabeth Stapleton:

* Sir Francis Calthorpe (d.1544), who married firstly Elizabeth Wyndham (d.1537), daughter of Sir John Wyndham (beheaded 6 May 1502) of Crownthorpe, Norfolk, by his first wife, Margaret Howard (born c.1451), daughter of John Howard (d. 22 August 1485), 1st Duke of Norfolk. There were no issue of the marriage. See Lee-Warner, supra, pp. 11-13, and Dyer's report of 'Calthorpe's Case' Trinity Term, 16 Elizabeth [=1574], 335a, in Vaillant, John, trans., Reports of Cases in the Reigns of Hen. VIII, Edw. VI, Q. Mary, and Q. Eliz., Part III, (London: J. Butterworth, 1794), at:

<https://books.google.ca/books?id=5lxHAAAAYAAJ&pg=RA4-PA6-IA42>

Sir Francis Calthorpe married secondly Elizabeth Berney (d.1582), daughter of Ralph Berney, esquire, by whom he had a son, William Calthorpe. After the death of Sir Francis Calthorpe, Elizabeth Berney married secondly John Culpepper, esquire. See the pedigree in Lee-Warner, supra, and Blomefield, Francis, An Essay Towards a Topographical History of the County of Norfolk, Vol. IV, (London: William Miller, 1806), p. 31 at:

<https://books.google.ca/books?id=3tovAAAAYAAJ&pg=PA31>

See also Richardson, Douglas, Plantagenet Ancestry, 2nd ed., 2011, Vol. II, pp. 272-3 and Vol. III, pp. 548-9.

* William Calthorpe (d.1528), esquire, of Pockthorpe. He married two wives, Cecily and Elizabeth, whose surnames are unknown. His will was proved at Norwich on 6 June 1528 (Reg. Attmere 282a). See Gurney, supra, p. 405. He is omitted in PA, supra, Vol. I, p. 169.

* Edward Calthorpe (d. before 1535), who married Anne Cromer, by whom he had a son, Edward Calthorpe, esquire. See PA, supra, Vol. I, p. 169.

* Anne Calthorpe, who married Sir Robert Drury (b. before 1456, d. 2 March 1535), lawyer and speaker of the House of Commons, and chief steward and executor to John de Vere (1442-1513), 13th Earl of Oxford. See his will, TNA PROB 11/25/467; and PA, supra, Vol. 1, p. 169.

* (blank) Calthorpe, who married Robert Clere of Ormesby. She is omitted in PA, supra, Vol. I, p. 169, and may have predeceased the testator. Robert Clere is appointed one of the testator's executors in the will below.

* Elizabeth Calthorpe (born c.1474) who married Francis Hasilden (d.1522), by whom she had a daughter, Frances Hasilden (d. 18 March 1582), who married Sir Robert Peyton (d. 1 August 1550). See MCA, supra, Vol. II, pp. 366-7 and Vol. III, p. 355, and the will of Elizabeth Clere Peyton, TNA PROB 11/31/102. There may have been other issue of the testator's second marriage. According to Lee-Warner, supra, p. 11, 'Norris mentions four other sons, Richard, George, John, and Thomas, who died young'.

As well, according to Burke, Thomas Heigham, a younger brother of Sir Clement Heigham (d. 9 March 1570), married Elizabeth Calthorpe (d. 9 March 1542), the daughter of Sir William Calthorpe (30 Jan 1410 - 15 Nov 1494), but died without issue. See Burke, John and John Bernard Burke, A Genealogical and Heraldic History of the Landed Gentry of Great Britain & Ireland, Vol. III, (London: Henry Colburn, 1850), pp. 159-60 at:

<https://books.google.ca/books?id=9NDTAAAAMAAJ&pg=PA159>

However the marriage of Thomas Heigham and Elizabeth Calthorpe does not appear in the pedigree in Lee-Warner, supra.

After the death of the testator, his widow, Elizabeth Stapleton (d. 18 February 1505), married secondly Sir John Fortescue (d. 28 July 1500), father of Sir Adrian Fortescue (c.1481-1539), and thirdly, as his second wife, Lord Edward Howard (d. 25 April 1513), a younger son of Thomas Howard (1443 – 21 May 1524), 2nd Duke of Norfolk, by his first wife, Elizabeth Tilney (d. 4 April 1497), daughter and heiress of Frederick Tilney, esquire. See PA, supra, Vol. I, p. 169 and Vol. II, pp. 274-6; the ODNB entry for Lord Edward Howard; and Fortescue, Thomas, A History of the Family of Fortescue, (London, 1869), pp. 161, 163, and the pedigree after p. 152 at:
