

SUMMARY: The document below is the Prerogative Court of Canterbury copy of the will, dated 29 May 1514 and proved 1 July 1514, of Sir William Browne (d. 3 June 1514), Lord Mayor of London, whose daughter, Anne (nee Browne) Tyrrell Petre (d. 10 April 1582), married firstly John Tyrrell (d.1540), esquire, of Heron in East Horndon, Essex, and secondly Sir William Petre (d.1572).

FAMILY BACKGROUND

The testator was the son and heir of Sir John Browne, Lord Mayor of London in 1480, and the nephew of Sir William Browne, Lord Mayor of London in 1507. For the will of the testator's father, dated 3 November 1497 and proved 25 January 1498, in which he mentions his eldest son and heir, the testator, William Browne, and a younger son, Thomas Browne, see TNA PROB 11/11/350.

The testator's mother was Anne Belwood, the sister of Thomas Belwood alias Belknap. For her will, dated 12 January and proved 4 March 1503 [=1504], see the transcript by Brian Hessick at:

For the testator's family background, see also the Keble-Petre Book of Hours, which was in the library of William Foyle, and was sold by Christie's in 2000:

It should be noted that while the description compiled by Christie's erroneously states in paragraph 3 that the testator's daughter married Thomas Tyrrell, the correct identity of her first husband is given in paragraph 4 ('John Tyrrell, died in 1540').

MARRIAGES AND ISSUE

Testator's first marriage

The testator married firstly Katherine Shaa, daughter of Sir Edmund Shaa (d. 20 April 1488), Lord Mayor of London. For the will of Sir Edmund Shaa, see TNA PROB 11/8/187. For the will of Dame Julyan Shaa, see TNA PROB 11/10/214.

The testator requests that a trental of Masses be said at the two Charterhouses in London and Sheen for the souls of his wife, Katherine, and the souls of her father and mother, Sir Edmund and Dame Julian Shaa, and bequeaths a gold ring to his wife Katherine's sister, 'Margaret Riche, widow', as well as 20 marks apiece to her children, Thomas Rich and Katherine Rich.

In his will, the testator's father, Sir John Browne, states that the testator had four children by his first wife, Katherine Shaa, two of whom can be identified as his son and daughter:

* William Browne, esquire, of Flambards, Essex, eldest son and heir, for whose will, dated 1 October 1549 and proved 28 January 1551, see TNA PROB 11/34/32.

* Julian Browne, who married Sir John Munday, Lord Mayor of London. For her will, dated 20 September 1537 and proved 26 September 1537, see TNA PROB 11/27/117.

In her will, Julian (nee Browne) Munday mentions several siblings:

Item, I give to my sister Tyrrell my gown of taffeta.

Item, to my sister Twiselton my gown of French black lined with satin.

Item, I will my executors do cause to be made divers rings of gold, every ring to be of the value of 20s, and I give to every of these my friends underwritten one of those rings, desiring them to pray for me, that is to say, my Lady Howard, my Lady Norwich, my brother [=brother-in-law] Tyrrell, my brother William Browne and his wife, my brother John Browne and his wife, my sister Wiggeston [=Wigston], my cousin Rowlett and his wife, my cousin Preston and his wife, my cousin Poynes, Thomas Sponer, Mr Dynne(?) & his wife, and to Thomas Shaa and his wife.

Testator's second marriage

The testator married secondly Alice Keble (d. 8 June 1521), the daughter of Henry Keble (d.1517?), Lord Mayor of London, and Joan Bryce. The will of Henry Keble, TNA PROB 11/18/280, indicates that by Alice Keble the testator had two sons and two daughters:

John Browne (d.1570), esquire, for whom see his will, TNA PROB 11/52/404, and the History of Parliament entry at:

<http://www.historyofparliamentonline.org/volume/1509-1558/member/browne-john-ii-1513-70>

b. by 1513, 2nd s. of William Browne of Flambards Hall, Essex and London by Alice, da. of Henry Keble of London. m. (1) Anne, da. and coh. of Sir John Montgomery of Cubley, Derbys., ch. d.v.p.; (2) by 1541, Alice, da. of Sir Thomas Baldry of London, 2s. 1da.; (3) by 1546, Christian, da. of William Carkett (Carkeke) of London, 2s. prob. 3da.1

 Matthew Browne.

* Anne Browne (d. 10 March 1582), for whom see her will, TNA PROB 11/64/153. She married firstly John Tyrrell (d.1540), esquire, of Heron in East Horndon, Essex, for whose will see TNA PROB 11/28/299. John Tyrrell's father and mother are left a bequest in the will below:

Item, I bequeath to Sir Thomas Tyrrell, knight, £20, and to my Lady, his wife, 20 marks.

Anne Browne married secondly Sir William Petre (d.1572), for whom see the ODNB entry, and his will, TNA PROB 11/55/45.

 Elizabeth Browne.

As noted above, after the testator's death his widow, Alice Keble, married, by February 1515, as his third wife, William Blount (c.1478-1534), 4th Baron Mountjoy, by whom she was the mother of Charles Blount, 5th Baron Mountjoy, and Katherine Blount (c.1518 - 25 February 1559), who married firstly Sir John Champernowne of Modbury, Devon, and secondly Sir Maurice Berkeley (1508 - 11 August 1581) of Bruton, Somerset. See Richardson, Douglas, Magna Carta Ancestry, 2nd ed., 2011, Vol. I, pp. 336-7; and the entry for Catherine Blount at:

<http://www.tudorwomen.com/>

Catherine Blount (c.1518 – February 25, 1558/9) was the daughter of William Blount, 4th baron Mountjoy (1479-November 8, 1534) and Alice Keble (1482-June 8, 1521). She married Sir John Champernowne of Modbury Devon (c.1541/2), by whom she had a son, Henry (1538-1570). By 1547, she had married Sir Maurice Berkeley of Bruton (1508-August 11, 1581). Their children were Henry (c. 1547-1601), Edward (d.1596), Francis (d. December 20, 1615), Gertrude (d.1581+), Elizabeth (d.1581+), Margaret (d.1581+), Anne (d.1581+), and possibly Frances. Champernowne's entry in the History of Parliament gives her date of death as March 1560. Berkeley's entry confuses Catherine with Katherine Champernowne Astley, Princess Elizabeth's governess. Portrait: effigy on Berkeley tomb in Bruton.

Alice (nee Keble) was buried at the Greyfriars, London.

OTHER PERSONS MENTIONED IN THE WILL

'Master Doctor Shorton' mentioned in the will below would appear to be Robert Shorton (d. 17 October 1535), for whom see the ODNB entry.

The testator's 'cousin, John West, mercer', mentioned in the will below was John West (d.1517), for whose will, which names his wife, Elizabeth, and four children, William, John, James and Katherine, see TNA PROB 11/18/550.

RM: Testamentum Willielmi Browne Aldermani

In the name of God, Amen. The 29th day of the month of May the year of Our Lord 1500 and 14 and the 6th year of the reign of King Henry the 8th, I, William Browne, citizen & Alderman of the City of London, and now Mayor of the same city, being whole of mind and in good memory, laud and praising be unto Almighty God, make and ordain this my present testament in manner and form following, that is to wit:

First, I bequeath and recommend my soul unto Almighty God, to his Mother Our Lady Saint Mary, and to all the holy company of saints in heaven, and my body to be buried within the body of the church of Saint Thomas the Martyr called Acon of London at the pillar there where low evensongs be customably said;

And after my body so buried, then I will that all such debts as I owe unto any person or persons of right or of conscience be well and truly contented and paid;

And where I have remaining in my hands of the residue of the goods of Sir John Browne, knight, and of Dame Anne, late his wife, my father and mother, the sum of £526 13s 4d sterlings yet unbestowed, I will and charge mine executors hereunder named that the same sum of £526 13s 4d be disposed and distributed by my same executors in manner and form following, that is to wit, £40 thereof to the parish church of Saint Mary Magdalen in Milk Street of London towards the reparations of the same church according to the testament and last will of my said father;

Item, £100 thereof to the Chamberlain of the said city of London for the time being, to be delivered and paid unto him by my said executors within three years next after my decease, that is to say, £333 6s 8d, or in shorter time if conveniently it may be brought to pass, to be applied and disposed by the said Chamberlain for and towards the common weal of the same city;

Item, £20 to be delivered and paid by my said executors to the same Chamberlain within a year next after my decease to be applied for th' avoiding of corrupt and noyous airs within the prison of Newgate of London as shall be thought most convenient by the Mayor and Alderman of the same city for the time being;

Item, £24 thereof to be delivered by mine executors, that is to wit, to every Alderman of the city of London 20s, to be bestowed by every such Alderman amongst the poor householders inhabiting within his ward to pray for my soul and the souls of my said father and mother, their children, benefactors' and good friends' souls;

Item, £50 to be applied by mine executors by th' advice of Master Doctor Shorton and of Master Doctor Belland, Prior of the Friars Augustines in London, or in default of them by th' advice of two such other Doctors and famous men such as mine executors shall think convenient, in giving exhibition unto well-disposed scholars being priests and students in Art or in Divinity at [+the?] Universities of Oxenford and Cambridge;

And I will that the same scholars be in number 5 persons unpromoted unto any benefice, and every of them have yearly during the space of 5 years, so always that if any of them within the same term of 5 years happen to decease or to be promoted unto any benefice, then I will that such another be elected and named in the room and stead of him or them so deceasing or promoted, and have the same exhibition in form abovesaid;

Item, I will that £20 of the said sum of £526 13s 4d be disposed by mine executors within three years next after my decease in shirts, smocks and sheets to be made of Normandy canvas, and to be distributed amongst the poor prisoners, poor householders and other poor and needy people within the city of London;

Item, other £20 thereof to be bestowed in garments to be made of frieze and cotton woollen cloth, to be given and distributed by my said executors in form abovesaid amongst the poor and needy people;

Item, other £20 thereof to be disposed and distributed by my said executors within three years next after my decease in redeeming of poor prisoners out of prison;

And I will that 20 mark of the foresaid sum be bestowed by my said executors in altar cloths, vestments and albs to serve in the said parish church of Saint Mary Magdalen for the altar there where my said father's priest doth sing and hereafter shall sing;

And the residue of the said sum of £526 13s 4d I will it be applied and disposed in purchasing of lands and tenements and rents within the city of London to be amortized unto the Warden and Commonalty of the craft or mystery of Mercers in London for the finding of a priest and keeping of an obit for my soul, the soul of Katherine, late my wife, my father, mother and benefactors' souls, and all Christian souls in the said church of Saint Thomas the Martyr called Acon of London in manner and form as I have appointed or shall appoint by my testament and last will made or hereafter to be made of my lands and tenements;

And after the said sum of £526 13s 4d be fully disposed, deducted(?) and distributed in form above rehearsed, my debts which I owe paid, and my funeral expenses fully performed and done, I will that all my moveable goods, chattels, debts, wares, merchandizes and stuff whatsoever they be and wheresoever they may be found be truly and egally divided into three egall parts or portions by mine executors and overseer hereunder named;

Of the which 2 egall parts I bequeath one egall part to my most faithful and well-beloved wife, Dame Alice Browne, to and for her own [-own] proper use and behoof;
