

SUMMARY: The document below is the Prerogative Court of Canterbury copy of the will, dated 11 September 1570 and proved 12 October 1571, of Sir Richard Newport (d. 12 September 1570), nephew of Roger Corbet, a ward of John de Vere, 13th Earl of Oxford, and owner of a copy of Hall's Chronicle containing annotations thought to have been made by Shakespeare. The volume was Loan 61 in the British Library until 2007, was subsequently on loan to Lancaster University Library until 2010, and is now in the hands of a trustee, Lady Hesketh. According to the Wikipedia entry for Sir Richard Newport, the annotated Hall's Chronicle is now at Eton College, Windsor. See:

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Richard\_Newport\_\(died\_1570\))

Newport's copy of his chronicle, containing annotations sometimes attributed to William Shakespeare, is now in the Library at Eton College, Windsor.

For the annotated Hall's Chronicle, see also Keen, Alan and Roger Lubbock, The Annotator, (London: Putnam, 1954), and the Annotator page on this website:

<http://www.oxford-shakespeare.com/annotator.html>

For the will, dated 24 February 1556 and proved 18 August 1557, of Katherine (nee Gedyng) Hall, mother of Edward Hall (1497-1547), the author of Hall's Chronicle, see TNA PROB 11/39/329.

The testator's sister, Elizabeth Newport, married John Pakington (1530-1578), and was the aunt of Humphrey Martyn (d.1587?), the addressee of the Langham Letter describing Leicester's entertainment of Queen Elizabeth at Kenilworth in the summer of 1575. See the Langham page on this website.

The testator appoints as overseer Sir Thomas Bromley (c.1530-1587), whom Oxford appointed as one of the trustees in his indenture of 20 January 1575.

The testator was knighted by Oxford's first cousin, Thomas Howard (1538-1572), 4th Duke of Norfolk, on 21 July 1560 at Berwick for service during the Scottish campaign, referred to by the testator in this bequest:

Item, I bequeath to my servant Jockey, whom I brought with me out of Scotland, £13 6s 8d of lawful money of England.

<https://archive.org/details/knightsofengland02shawuoft/page/n79>

The testator's daughter, Mary Newport, married, as her second husband, Ralph Sneyd (d. 15 August 1620), uncle of Oxford's second wife, Elizabeth Trentham.

Another of the testator's daughters, Magdalen Newport, married, as her second husband, the brother of Sir Charles Danvers, friend of Henry Wriothesley, 3rd Earl of Southampton, to whom Shakespeare dedicated Venus and Adonis and The Rape of Lucrece.

FAMILY BACKGROUND

For early generations of the Newport family, see Bridgeman, Ernest R.O. and Charles G.O. Bridgeman, 'History of the Manor and Parish of Weston-under-Lizard, in the County of Stafford', William Salt Archaeological Society, ed., Collections for a History of Staffordshire, Vol. XX, Vol. II, New Series, (London: Harrison and Sons, 1899), p. 146 at:

According to the ODNB entry for the testator's grandson, the poet, George Herbert (1593-1633), the testator was 'descended from Gwenwynwyn, ruler of southern Powys'.

Testator's grandparents

The testator was the grandson of John Newport (d. October 1512), esquire, of High Ercall, Shropshire, by Alice Swynnerton (living 17 November 1526), the daughter of Sir Thomas Swynnerton (d.1542). For the will of John Newport (d. October 1512), see TNA PROB 11/18/166.

According to Keen, the testator was a cousin of Richard Newport (d. 11 November 1565) of Hunningham, Warwickshire. See Keen, Alan, 'In the Quick Forge and Working-House of Thought', Bulletin of the John Rylands Library, Vol. 33, No. 2, March 1951, pp. 256-70 at p. 257:

It may be imagined with what alacrity those of us who believed in the probability of Shakespeare being the annotator leapt, if prematurely, upon the task of identifying our Rychard Newport with one of that name who was owner of Hunningham in the County of Warwick from 1544 to the date of his death, 11th November, 1565. This Rychard Newport, through marriage of his daughter and various other ties, was closed connected with the prominent Warwickshire family of Underhill, one of whom, his son-in-law, in 1567, when Shakespeare was three years old, bought New Place in Stratford-on-Avon. His son sold New Place to Shakespeare in 1597. However attractive this identification seemed to be, the return of the public records at the end of the second world war, and comparison of autographs, blew our neatly-laid provenance sky high. The owner of our annotated Chronicle, the other Sir Rychard Newport – was of High Erccall in Shropshire, and, curiously enough, a cousin to the Sir [sic] Rychard of Warwickshire.

For the will of Richard Newport (d. 11 November 1565), see TNA PROB 11/48/318.

Testator's parents

The testator was the son of Thomas Newport and Anne Corbet. For the will of Thomas Newport, dated 24 July 1548 and proved 11 June 1551, see TNA PROB 11/34/176. See also the pedigree of Newport in Grazebrook, George, and John Paul Rylands, eds., The Visitation of Shropshire Taken in the Year 1623, Part II, (London: Harleian Society, 1889), Vol. XXIX, pp. 372-4 at:

<https://archive.org/stream/visitationshrop01grazgoog#page/n100/mode/2up>

The testator's mother, Anne Corbet, was the daughter of Sir Robert Corbet (c.1477 – 11 April 1513) by Elizabeth Vernon, the daughter of Sir Henry Vernon (c.1441 – 13 April 1515) of Haddon, Derbyshire. For the will of Sir Henry Vernon, see TNA PROB 11/18/121. For the will of Sir Robert Corbet, see TNA PROB 11/17/471.

Sir Robert Corbet's sister, Elizabeth Corbet, and her husband Thomas Trentham (d.1518/9) of Shrewsbury, were the great-grandparents of Oxford's second wife, Elizabeth Trentham (d.1612). For the will of Thomas Trentham (d.1518/9), see TNA PROB 11/19/252.

See also the pedigree of Corbet of Morton in Grazebrook, George, and John Paul Rylands, eds., The Visitation of Shropshire Taken in the Year 1623, Part I, (London: Harleian Society, 1889), Vol. XXVIII, pp. 136-7 at:

<https://archive.org/stream/visitationshrop00britgoog#page/n190/mode/2up>

The testator's mother, Anne Corbet, was the sister of Roger Corbet (1501/2 – 20 December 1538), ward of John de Vere (1442-1513), 13th Earl of Oxford.

Testator's siblings

According to the pedigree of Newport of High Erccall and Weston-under-Lizard, the testator had six brothers and three sisters, for whom see the will of his father, Thomas Newport, TNA PROB 11/34/176.

In the will below, the testator mentions only two brothers:

-Hugh Newport d.1587) of Corsham, Wiltshire, for whose will, dated 13 February 1587 and proved 31 May 1587, see TNA PROB 11/70/366. According to the pedigree of Butler of Langley he married Jane Butler, the daughter of Thomas Butler, gentleman, of Hanger in the parish of Bremhill, Wiltshire, by Joyce Godridge, daughter of John Godridge, esquire, of Pyrton, Gloucestershire. See Metcalfe, Walter C., ed., The Visitation of Wiltshire 1565, (Exeter: William Pollard & Co., 1897), p. 11 at:

<https://archive.org/details/visitationofwilt00harvrich/page/10>

-Thomas Newport of Stoke on Tern, Shropshire, buried at High Erccall 15 October 1599. He appears to have been in the service of Robert Devereux, 2nd Earl of Essex.

As noted above, the testator also had a sister:

-Elizabeth Newport, who married John Pakington (1530-1578), and was the aunt of Humphrey Martyn, the addressee of the Langham Letter describing Leicester's entertainment of Queen Elizabeth at Kenilworth in the summer of 1575.

MARRIAGE AND ISSUE

The testator married Margaret Bromley (d. 11 August 1598), the only daughter and heir of Sir Thomas Bromley (d. 15 May 1555), Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, by Isabel Lyster, daughter of Richard Lyster of Rowton. See the History of Parliament entry at:

<http://www.historyofparliamentonline.org/volume/1509-1558/member/bromley-thomas-i-1505-55>

Margaret Bromley's grandfather, Roger Bromley, was a younger brother of William Bromley, esquire, of Mitley, father of George Bromley (d.1545) of Hodnet, father of Sir Thomas Bromley (c.1530-1587), Queen Elizabeth's Lord Chancellor. Since their grandfathers were brothers, Margaret Bromley was a second cousin of Queen Elizabeth's Lord Chancellor, Sir Thomas Bromley (c.1530-1587), for whose will see TNA PROB 11/70/219. Sir Thomas Bromley (c.1530-1587) was one of the trustees appointed in Oxford's indenture of 20 January 1575. See SRO D615/D 45(1).

For Margaret Bromley's family background, see also the Bromley pedigree in Grazebrook, Part I, supra, pp. 77-8 at:

<https://archive.org/stream/visitationshrop00britgoog#page/n132/mode/2up>

For the will of the testator's wife, Margaret Bromley Newport, see TNA PROB 11/93/149.

By Margaret Bromley, the testator had four sons (two of whom died young) and four daughters:

* Sir Francis Newport (February 1557 – 6 or 15 March 1623), who married Beatrix Lacon (buried 9 March 1617), the daughter of Rowland Lacon (c.1537 – 3 November 1608), esquire, of Willey and Kinlet. For Sir Francis Newport, see his will, TNA PROB 11/141/527, and the History of Parliament entry at:

<http://www.historyofparliamentonline.org/volume/1558-1603/member/newport-francis-ii-1555-1623>

For Rowland Lacon, see the History of Parliament entry at:

<http://www.historyofparliamentonline.org/volume/1558-1603/member/lacon-roland-1537-1608>

By Beatrix Lacon Sir Francis Newport had three sons and four daughters:

(1) Sir Richard Newport (d.5 February 1650), eldest son and heir, who married Rachel Leveson, the daughter of Sir John Leveson (d. 7 November 1615), brother of Shakespeare's trustee, William Leveson (d.1621). For the will of Sir John Leveson, see TNA PROB 11/126/409.

(2) Henry Newport (buried 13 March 1628), who died without issue.

(3) Thomas Newport (buried 28 December 1650).

(4) Mary Newport (buried 5 August 1622), who married, as his second wife, Sir Robert Harley (1579-1656) of Brampton Bryan, Herefordshire, and Aldermanbury, London. Sir Robert Harley's first wife was Anne Barret, step-daughter of Sir John Leveson (d. 7 November 1615) (see above). After Mary Newport's death, Sir Robert Harley married, as his third wife, Brilliana Conway, by whom he was the father of Robert Harley (1661-1724), Earl of Oxford. Robert Harley's third marriage is said to have been brokered by Mary (nee Tracy) Hoby Vere (18 May 1581 - 25 December 1671), wife of Oxford's first cousin, Horatio Vere (1565-1635), Baron Vere of Tilbury, for whose will see TNA PROB 11/338/214.

See the History of Parliament entry for Sir Robert Harley at:

(5) Margaret Newport, who married John Barker, esquire, of Haughmond, Shropshire.

(6) Anne Newport (buried 29 December 1623).

(7) Eleanor Newport, who died young.

* Andrew Newport (July 1562 – April 1611), who died unmarried. See the History of Parliament entry at :

<http://www.historyofparliamentonline.org/volume/1558-1603/member/newport-andrew-1563-1611>

* Mary Newport, who married firstly William Gratwood, and secondly Ralph Sneyd, esquire, of Keel, Staffordshire, the uncle of Oxford's second wife, Elizabeth Trentham (d.1612). For Ralph Sneyd, who was Oxford's trustee in documents entered into at the time of his second marriage and shortly thereafter, see the will of his father, Sir William Sneyd (d. 6 June 1571), TNA PROB 11/54/430.

* Isabel Newport, who married, about 1568, Sir Charles Fox of Bromfield, Shropshire.

* Elizabeth Newport, who married firstly, about 1569, Francis Lawley, esquire, of Spoonhill, Shropshire, and secondly Sir Thomas Lawley of Wenlock, Shropshire.

* Magdalen Newport (d. 1627), who married firstly Richard Herbert (d.1596), esquire, of Blackhall and Montgomery, by whom she was the mother of seven sons and three daughters, including Edward Herbert (1582?-1648), 1st Baron Herbert of Cherbury, the poet George Herbert (1593–1633), Sir Henry Herbert (baptized 1594, d.1673), Master of the Revels, and Thomas Herbert (b. 15 May 1597, d. before 1643), and secondly Sir John Danvers (1584/5–1655), younger brother of Sir Charles Danvers (c.1568-1601) and Henry Danvers, (1573-1644), Earl of Danby. She was a friend of the poet John Donne, who was apparently related to Oxford through a mutual ancestor, Sir John Don.

A monument at Wroxeter depicts the testator and his wife and children. See Transactions of the Shropshire Archeological and Natural History Society, 4th Series, Volume VII, 1918-1919 (Vol. XL), (Shrewsbury: Adnitt and Naunton), pp. 136-7 at:

TESTATOR'S OVERSEERS

As noted above, George Bromley (d.1545) of Hodnet was the father of Queen Elizabeth's Lord Chancellor, Sir Thomas Bromley (c.1530-1587). George Bromley (d.1545) was also the father of George Bromley (c.1526-1589), Chief Justice of Cheshire. See the Bromley pedigree in Grazebrook, Part I, supra, p. 78 at:

<https://archive.org/stream/visitationshrop00britgoog#page/n132/mode/2up>

See also the ODNB entry for Lord Chancellor Bromley:

Bromley, Sir Thomas (c.1530–1587), lord chancellor, was a younger son of George Bromley (d. 1545) of Hodnet, Shropshire, and his wife, Jane (b. c.1505), daughter of Sir Thomas Lacon of Willey, Shropshire. His was a legal family: his father was a bencher of the Inner Temple, as were his uncle Sir Thomas Bromley (d. 1555), chief justice of the king's bench, and his brother George, chief justice of Chester, whose son Edward Bromley became a baron of the exchequer in the time of James I.

The testator bequeaths his best gelding to George Bromley and a Portuguese gold coin to Thomas Bromley, and appoints them as overseers of his will:

Item, I ordain and make of this my said last will and testament my said wife and my son, Francis, my executors, and my said cousins George Bromley and Thomas Bromley overseers or supervisors . . . .

Item, I bequeath to my cousin, George Bromley, esquire, the Queen's Majesty's attorney of her Grace's Duchy of Lancaster, my best gelding which he will choose, and a portague, and to his wife one old royal.

Item, I bequeath to my cousin, Thomas Bromley, esquire, the Queen's Majesty's solicitor, a portague, and to his wife one old royal.

RM: T{estamentum} Ricardi Newporte mil{itis}

In the name of God Amen. In the year of our Lord God a thousand five hundred threescore & ten and in the twelfth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lady Elizabeth by the grace of God Queen of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith &c., I, Sir Richard Newport of High Erccall in the county of Salop, knight, sick in body but of whole and perfect remembrance, thanks be unto Almighty God, make my testament and last will in form following, that is to say:

First and principally, I yield up my soul into the merciful hands of God the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, believing assuredly to be saved only through God's mercy purchased for me by the death and bloodshedding of Jesus Christ, God and man, my only Saviour and Redeemer, & by no other means;

My body I will to be buried in the parish church of Wroxeter near unto the places wherein Sir Thomas Bromley, knight, and Dame Isabel, his wife, my father-in-law and mother-in-law, be buried, with such charge to be bestowed about my funerals as to my executors shall be thought convenient according to my degree and calling;

And whereas Margaret, my well beloved wife, hath to her conveyed and assured for term of her life all my lands, tenements and hereditaments with th' appurtenances in the counties of Wigornia & Pembroke, and all that my manor of Heme with th' appurtenances in the said county of Salop, and all my lands, tenements, and hereditaments with th' appurtenances in the parish of Shifnal alias Idsall in the said county of Salop for and in the name of her jointure by force of an assurance or estate thereof to her or to her use conveyed or executed by Thomas Newport, esquire, my father, deceased, which manor, lands, tenements & hereditaments with th' appurtenances so conveyed and assured for the jointure of my said wife are of the clear yearly value of £34 or thereabouts;

And whereas my said wife hath an estate for term of her life of and in the manor of Cressage with th' appurtenances in the said county of Salop, and of and in all those lands, tenements and hereditaments with th' appurtenances in the parish of Cound in the said county of Salop which I lately purchased of Sir John Littleton of Frankley in the said county of Wigornia, now knight and then esquire, and which said manor of Cressage and other the premises with th' appurtenances in the said parish of Cound the said Sir John Littleton conveyed and assured to me and to my said wife and to my heirs and assigns forever, and the same now is and are of the clear yearly value of £38 10s 6d;

And whereas I am sole seised in my own right of a good and perfect estate of inheritance in fee simple of and in the manor of High Ercall otherwise called Arcallive Magna with th' appurtenances in the said county of Salop, and of and in divers lands, tenements & hereditaments with th' appurtenances in the parish of High Ercall alias Arcallive Magna and in the towns of Salop, Newport and Walton in the said county of Salop, amounting in the whole not above the clear yearly value of threescore pounds by reason of divers annuities or rents-charge issuing out of the same, and being the residue and all that remaineth of all and singular my manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments with th' appurtenances within the realm of England over and besides the said manors aforesaid;

Now forasmuch as there is yet behind and unpaid of the marriage money of my daughters Isabel & Elizabeth, being already married, the sum of five hundred marks of lawful money of England, that is to say, three hundred marks for the marriage money of the said Isabel and two hundred marks for the marriage money of the said Elizabeth, parcel of the said sum of five hundred marks, and forasmuch also as Andrew, my younger son, & Magdalen, my daughter, are yet of tender years and want any advancement or preferment, for whom I must likewise provide, and for that I have not presently in goods and chattels wherewith to discharge the said portions of marriage money [+and] to make provision for the said Andrew and Magdalen, and also to perform my funerals and legacies and the contents of this my will according to my purpose and meaning in that behalf, therefore I will, devise & bequeath to my said wife two parts of my said manor of High Ercall alias Arcallive Magna in three parts to be divided, and two parts of all my lands, tenements and hereditaments with th' appurtenances in three parts to be divided in the said county of Salop (the said manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments with th' appurtenances heretofore conveyed and assured to my said wife for term of her life as is aforesaid always excepted), for and during the term of eight years next after my decease fully to be complete, to th' end she shall with th' issues, profits & revenues thereof perform this my will and testament and the legacies therein specified according to my true intent & meaning, wherein I earnestly desire her to be careful in performing the trust which I repose in her and the charge which I have committed to her, as she will answer to the contrary before the judgment seat of Almighty God;

The third part of the said manor of Ercall and of all and singular the said lands, tenements and other the premises with th' appurtenances whereof the two parts are before devised, I will shall immediately after my decease descend unto Francis, my eldest son, to th' end the Queen's Majesty may have the wardship or primer seisin thereof as shall appertain in case any my lands, tenements or hereditaments be holden of her Majesty by knight's service in chief, or otherwise by knight's service;

Also I will that the marriage money of my said daughter Isabel shall be paid within convenient time after that Charles Fox, esquire, her father-in-law, shall have conveyed and assured his manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments with th' appurtenances to such uses or for such estate or estates and in such manner and form as is limited & expressed in and by certain articles made between me and the said Charles the 12th day of September in the eighth year of the reign of the Queen's Majesty that now is, according to the intent and true meaning of the same articles;

Also I will that the residue of the marriage money of the said Elizabeth, my daughter, that is, to wit, so much thereof as is yet behind and unpaid, being two hundred marks, shall be contented and paid within convenient time after that my son-in-law, Francis Lawley, shall have conveyed and assured his manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments with th' appurtenances to such uses or for such estate or estates and in such manner and form as by certain articles in that behalf made and agreed upon between me and him the 8th day of August in the year of our Lord God a thousand five hundred threescore and nine the same are limited and condescended to be assured or conveyed, according to the purpose and true meaning thereof;

Also I will that in case the said Magdalen, my daughter, be ordered and demean herself, as well touching her marriage as otherwise, according to the mind and to the good contentation of my executors and overseers or of the greater number of them or of the survivors or survivor of them, or otherwise honestly and decently and according to her degree, that then for her advancement in marriage or for her preferment otherwise she shall have two hundred pounds of lawful money of England to be paid unto her within one year after her marriage or within one year after that she shall come to th' age of twenty years;

Item, I bequeath to my servant Jockey, whom I brought with me out of Scotland, £13 6s 8d of lawful money of England;

Also I bequeath to Margaret Gibbons, my maidservant, £6 13s 4d;

And to Thomas Maddox, 20s;

And to Richard Thonder, 20s;

And to Thomas Gozhe, ten shillings;

And for that I have otherwise provided for my servants Randolph Farrington, Thomas Dyke, William Gozhe, Margaret Bocher and Alice Kirby, namely by making to some of them leases for term of their lives, to other some of them annuities for term of their lives, out of certain lands and tenements of mine, therefore I will and bequeath to every of my now household servants receiving wages of me (except the said Jockey, Margaret Gibbons, Randolph Farrington, Thomas Dyck, William Gozhe, Margaret Bocher and Alice Kirby) so much as their several wages for one whole year amounteth unto, over and besides so much as shall or should be due for one half year to be ended at the feast of the Nativity of Our Lord God next ensuing the date hereof;

Also I will that in case after this my will performed, and my funerals, debts and legacies contented and paid, there do remain any of th' issues, profits and revenues of the two parts of my said manors, lands, tenements and other the premises with th' appurtenances devised to my said wife by this my will as is aforesaid not paid or disposed according to this my last will and testament, that then my said wife, her executors and administrators, shall be accountable for the said residue so remaining unto Francis Newport, my son and heir apparent;

Item, I will that all my quick cattle shall be equally divided between my said wife and my said son, Francis;

Also I give unto my said wife all the corn which I have, and all my ready money with her jewels which she hath used to wear, and all her apparel;

Item, I bequeath to every of my sons-in-law & to every of my brothers-in-law a portague, and to every of their wives one old royal of 15s;

Item, I will that if Richard Marshall alias Beche of Shrewsbury pay to my executors the sum of threescore pounds of lawful English money according to such bargain as hath proceeded between him and me, then I will that Andrew, my son before-named, shall have the said threescore pounds;

Item, I bequeath to my cousin, George Bromley, esquire, the Queen's Majesty's attorney of her Grace's Duchy of Lancaster, my best gelding which he will choose, and a portague, and to his wife one old royal;

Item, I bequeath to my son-in-law, William Gratwood, esquire, the best of my geldings which he will choose after that my said cousin, George Bromley, hath made his choice;

Item, I bequeath to my cousin, Thomas Bromley, esquire, the Queen's Majesty's solicitor, a portague, and to his wife one old royal;

Also I give to my brother, Hugh Newport, twenty pounds of lawful English money and thone half of my apparel;

Item, I give to my brother, Thomas Newport, five pounds thirteen shillings & fourpence of current English money;

Item, I give to my godsons, Francis Adams and John Leighton, to either of them forty shillings;

Item, I give to my cousin, John Leighton of Leighton, my gelding called Young Leighton;

Item, I ordain and make of this my said last will and testament my said wife and my son, Francis, my executors, and my said cousins George Bromley and Thomas Bromley overseers or supervisors to see this my testament and last will performed according to my true intent and meaning, whom I desire to have such respect thereunto as is convenient according to that trust which I repose in them;

In witness whereof I have published and declared this to be my last will and testament the 11th day of September in the year first above-written in presence of the persons whose names are subscribed: William Gratewood, Randolph Trevor, Maderne Wysebecke, Richard Prince, Margaret Bocher, Ellen Hotchkiss.
