

SUMMARY: The document below likely dates from late 1562 or early 1563, and lists 103 knights' fees belonging to the 16th Earl of Oxford at his death. A knight's fee was a military tenure by which land was held from a lord in return for military service. In the feudal period, the military obligation was real, but by the 16th Earl's time, tenants were rarely called upon to come armed into the field to fight for their lord. The total value of the fees listed for Essex is £3 19s 2d, for Suffolk 17s 8d, for Cambridge 10s 8d, for Hertford 4s, for Norfolk nothing, and for Buckingham 10s 4d, for a total of £6 1s 10d. As indicated in the document, nothing at all was paid for 49 of the 103 fees.

Valuation of the fees which lately belonged to John Vere, Earl of Oxenford, deceased, appertaining to divers honors in divers counties, as follows:
